

The Astor Learning Center

The Astor Learning Center (ALC) is a therapeutic school for children facing educational, emotional, and behavioral challenges. The ALC provides a nurturing learning environment where children who have often experienced failure in school can finally succeed. Started in 2010, Astor's Day Student Program enables children from the local community to attend a more structured educational environment that better meets their needs.

The ALC includes:

- Small class sizes of six to eight students including individual instruction, as needed
- High student/teacher ratios of one teacher and two teacher assistants/class enhances learning
- Special area classes in Art, Computer Lab, Physical Education, Library, & Music
- Spacious, well-equipped, and beautifully decorated classrooms
- Large windows in wide hallways
- Team-based approach to problem-solve for struggling students

Services Offered:

- K-8 grade educational services
- Development of social and emotional competence of young children

- Speech/language therapy when indicated
- Occupational & Physical therapy when indicated
- Parent counseling/training
- Individual/group counseling when indicated
- Other specialized services, as needed

Referral Criteria:

All referrals must come from the child's home school districts Committee on Special Education (CSE).

Contact

Stephanie Buckman, Principal
6339 Mill Street, Rhinebeck, NY 12572
alc@astorservices.org
(845) 871-1032
www.astorservices.org

