The COVID-19 pandemic has had a major effect on our lives. Many of us are facing challenges that can be stressful, overwhelming, and cause strong emotions in adults and children. Public health actions, such as social distancing, are necessary to reduce the spread of COVID-19, but they can make us feel isolated and lonely and can increase stress and anxiety. Learning to cope with stress in a healthy way will make you, the people you care about, and those around you become more resilient.

Stress can cause the following:

- Feelings of fear, anger, sadness, worry, numbness, or frustration
- Changes in appetite, energy, desires, and interests
- Difficulty concentrating and making decisions
- Difficulty sleeping or nightmares
- Physical reactions, such as headaches, body pains, stomach problems, and skin rashes
- Worsening of chronic health problems
- Worsening of mental health conditions
- Increased use of tobacco, alcohol, and other substances

It is natural to feel stress, anxiety, grief, and worry during the COVID-19 pandemic. Below are ways that you can help yourself, others, and your community manage stress.

Healthy Ways to Cope with Stress

- Take breaks from watching, reading, or listening to news stories, including those on social media. It's good to be informed, but hearing about the pandemic constantly can be upsetting. Consider limiting news to just a couple times a day and disconnecting from phone, tv, and computer screens for a while.
- Take care of your body.
 - Take deep breaths, stretch, or meditate.
 - Try to eat healthy, well-balanced meals.
 - Exercise regularly.
 - Get plenty of sleep.
 - Avoid excessive alcohol, tobacco, and substance use.
 - Continue with routine preventive measures (such as vaccinations, cancer screenings, etc.) as recommended by your healthcare provider.
 - Get vaccinated with a COVID-19 vaccine when available.
- Make time to unwind. Try to do some other activities you enjoy.
- Connect with others. Talk with people you trust about your concerns and how you are feeling.
- Connect with your community- or faith-based organizations. While social distancing measures are in place, try connecting online, through social media, or by phone or mail.

COVID is challenging our community and we're here to help you cope.

Helping Others Cope

Taking care of yourself can better equip you to take care of others. During times of social distancing, it is especially important to stay connected with your friends and family. Helping others cope with stress through phone calls or video chats can help you and your loved ones feel less lonely or isolated.

The Council also provides training for providers in establishing and maintaining the day care setting in keeping with NYS regulations. Parents should consult the Child Care Council for more specific guidance about locating child care that best fits the needs of their children.

EDUCATION

This section is taken from the NYS Education Law, so it is general in nature. To get more specific information, you will need to contact your school district directly.

School Registration/Transfer - Parents/Guardians may check on the school's website for the pre-registration forms and documents necessary to enroll a child. If the pre-registration forms cannot be located, please call the intended school; contact information can be found on page 18.

Screening of new school entrants – Every new student to a school must be provided with a screening to determine which students may have handicapping conditions or may be gifted. If such screening indicates a possible handicapping condition, a referral shall be made to the Committee on Special Education with notification of the referral to the parents/legal guardians. If the screening indicates a possibly gifted child, the name and finding shall be reported to the Principal and to the parents/legal guardians. Parents/Guardians of children will receive information in advance regarding the purpose of screening, the areas to be screened and the referral process. The information shall be communicated either orally or in writing to the parents.

Assignment of students to classes – The building principal is responsible for assignment of students and must take into account:

- The educational, emotional and social needs of each student as determined by professional knowledge and as revealed by any information, which may be supplied by the student, former schools and parent/guardians.
- The appropriate size for each class.
- An equitable load for each teacher.

A deadline is established for changing the assignment of students in grades 7-12 to classrooms.

After the deadline, changes may only be made in cases of:

- Unexpected student failure in the work of the previous year.
- Earning of course credit by the student during the summer months.
- A change in the career plans of the student.

Home Schooling - If a parent chooses to instruct their children at home, the school district will attempt to cooperate with parents. The school district maintains that a child who is educated at home should receive an education in a manner consistent with an educational plan and at least substantially equivalent to that given to minors of like age and attainments in the local public schools. The required subjects should be taught in a competent, systematic and sequential manner, specifically in relation to the basic core curriculum of reading, mathematics and writing. The Superintendent shall develop appropriate regulations and procedures in accordance with State Requirements.

Homebound Instruction provided by the School District - Homebound instruction is provided to students who are absent for two weeks or more due to documented medical or psychiatric illness. Prior approval via the Office of Pupil Personnel Services is required and is made on a case by case basis. Students in kindergarten are not eligible for homebound instruction. Homebound instruction is intended to provide continuity for the student while he/she is absent from school but is not intended to fully duplicate the education the student would receive while attending school.

Eligibility for Homebound Instruction – Student must be currently enrolled in grades 1-12 or in Special Education. Homebound instruction request for approval form must be completed and submitted to the Director of Pupil Personnel.

Requests must include documentation from a physician or psychiatrist stating specific medical or psychological needs for homebound instruction and anticipated duration of absence.

Guidelines – Students in grades 1-5 are provided five hours minimum of instruction per week and ten hours minimum of instruction for students in grades 6-12. Instruction can take place in the student’s home. A parent or other responsible adult must be present for the duration of each homebound instruction session.

Instruction for hospitalized students, even if out of the area, can be arranged as part of the approval process. Instruction takes place only on days the School District is in session for students. In special cases, arrangements for instruction in such places as a public library can be made by the district.

Regulations and Procedures for Guidance Counselors, Principals:

- Complete and submit Request for Approval form.
- Upon submission of form, contact student’s teacher for assignments.
- Serve as a liaison between school, teacher, homebound tutor and parent.
- Obtain books and assignments from all of student’s teachers on a weekly basis.
- Disperse work completed by student to classroom teachers on a weekly basis.
- Provided a homebound tutor with a schedule of students Regents Exams and school finals at least ten days prior to an exam week.

Classroom Teachers’ Responsibilities:

- Provided a homebound tutor (vial guidance counselor-secondary).
- Objectives of topics to be covered for the next three weeks (brief outline).
- Books and any worksheets each week.
- Homework and in-class assignments each week.
- Grade all assignments and tests.
- Determination of student’s report card grades (teacher may consult with tutor).

Parent’s Responsibilities:

- Parent or other responsible adult MUST be present for the duration of all homebound instruction sessions or provide transportation for the instruction provided in a public setting.
- Ensure that their child is completing all assignments and putting forth appropriate effort.

- Notify child’s guidance counselor as to when student is expected to return to school.

Student’s Responsibilities:

- Be ready to learn when homebound tutor arrives.
- Complete all assignments on time, including homework.
- On your own time, practice and/or review topics covered during homebound instruction sessions.

Disciplinary Procedures If your child has misbehaved in school and the disciplinary action has reached the point of suspension, the School District is required to:

- Notify the parent/guardian immediately.

- Send out a letter to the child's home within a 24 hour period notifying the parent/guardian that the child has been suspended.

Students in Mainstream Education - If a regular education student has been suspended multiple times or is actively in trouble, they are sent out a letter regarding a Superintendents' Conference. This meeting is a preventive meeting as a warning to the Superintendents' Hearing. The Superintendents' Hearing is held to determine whether or not permanent suspension is needed. The Superintendents' Hearing also can be called if a student has committed a major violent incident.

Students in Special Education – If a student has a disciplinary violation the district will send out a letter for a Superintendents' Hearing, but notice will also be sent out regarding a Manifestation Determination/Emergency CSE Meeting. The CSE will determine whether the school placement is effective or if a new placement needs to be considered. The Superintendents Hearing looks at the last suspension that the child received and asks if it was done in accordance with the student's handicapping condition. If it is determined that it was in accordance with the handicapping condition, then the student cannot be penalized. If the act was not, then the Superintendent has the right to expel the child.

Bus Suspensions – Suspensions from the bus are carried through in the same manner, however, the letter home has a different format. The school requests that the parent/guardian speak with their child regarding their manner on the bus and work with the bus driver to cooperate. They maintain a policy that riding the school bus is a privilege, not a right.

Filing of a PINS Petition by the School District – School districts may file a “Person in Need of Supervision” petition with the Office of Probation where there is a persistent pattern of truancy, drug use or incorrigible behavior, or a combination of these problems that has not been corrected with the interventions described above. See DC Office of Probation section for further detail.

Special Education - “Special Education in Plain Language” produced by the New York State Special Education Task Force provides a clear explanation of the special education process. See this website for links to their publication: <http://www.nyspecialtaskforce.org/publications.html>

Fax: 845-486-3554

Through the Dutchess County Department of Behavioral & Community Health, Early Intervention provides a multi-disciplinary evaluation at no charge to assess developmental status and determine eligibility for Early Intervention services (such as speech therapy, physical therapy, parent training, etc.). Committee on Special Education (CSE)

Any child between the ages of 3 and 21 with a disability, who, by reason of the disability, may need special education and related services, must be evaluated by the school district's CSE to make that determination and to officially certify the child in one of the designated disability groups.

Committee on Pre-School Education (CPSE) - Each school district has a Committee on Pre-School Education (CPSE), which makes disability determinations for children with disabilities between the ages of 3 through 5. While each school district manages its own CSE process, if you have questions or concerns about how this process is working for you and your child, it can be helpful to consult the Regional Associate at the Hudson Valley Regional Office at 518-473-1185.

Educational Rights of Children: Youth that are Homeless or in Temporary Housing

Under the McKinney-Vento Homeless Assistance Act, a federal law, children and youth experiencing homelessness or living in temporary housing have the right to:

- Attend school regardless of where they live or how long they have lived there.
- Choose between: A. the school attended when they student was last permanently housed, B. the last school the student attended or C. the school where they are temporarily living.
- Immediate enrollment in school without requiring any documents regarding residency, immunizations, academic records, etc.
- Free transportation to school.
- Free meals at school.
- Participate in any school activity or program available to other students.
- Get special education services immediately if an Individualized Education Plan is in place.

These rights protected under the McKinney-Vento Act pertain to children and youth who are: staying in emergency or transitional shelters; sharing housing of others due to loss of their own housing, economic hardship or similar reason; living in places not meant for sleeping (car, abandoned buildings, parks, etc.); staying in a motel, hotel or campground; in a temporary living situation while awaiting foster care placement; or otherwise lacking a fixed, regular or adequate residence. Preschool services are also covered under the McKinney-Vento Act for children who are homeless or in temporary housing.

The McKinney-Vento Act applies to children living with their families as well as unaccompanied youth who are not in the physical custody of a parent/guardian. Unaccompanied youth do not need a parent or guardian to enroll in school.

An appeal process is available for situations in which the school district does not agree that a student is homeless as defined by the McKinney-Vento Act. The district must provide a written explanation of this decision. The parent/guardian or unaccompanied youth has thirty days to file an appeal with the State Education Department. Each Local Education Agency (LEA) or School District is required to appoint a Liaison for the Education of Homeless Children and Youth who is responsible for:

- Identifying children and youth who may be homeless.
- Making sure children are enrolled in school immediately.
- Educating students and/or parents about educational rights of homeless children.
- Mediating and settling disagreements between the student and the school.
- Coordinating with outside agencies (i.e. shelters, transportation services, etc.).
- Making students and/or parents aware of programs and services offered by the school for homeless students. A listing of the Liaisons for each of Dutchess County school Districts follows.

TASC New York

Since January 2014 New York State has offered TASC for the purpose of high school equivalency (HSE) testing, instead of GED. HSE testing is for people who didn't graduate high school and gives them the chance to earn an equivalent credential. The TASC measures knowledge at a level that is comparable to that of graduating high school seniors.

There are five TASC testing fields: Reading, Writing, Mathematics, Science and Social studies. Testing must be done at a state-designated testing site, there is NO online TASC or GED testing option.

What is the TASC?

New York said goodbye to the GED in January 2014 as the GED exam was getting too expensive and only offered on a computer. Therefore, the state switched to the TASC (Test Assessing Secondary Completion). Because the state subsidizes the cost of HSE testing for its residents, price played an important role in this decision. The New York State HSE diploma is accepted all across America in the same way as a standard high school diploma by practically all employers and colleges.

Is the TASC exam free?

As said before, in New York, YES! But if you are thinking about going for the TASC examination, be aware that the TASC exam can only be taken by you in person and only at an official TASC testing center. There is no fee to take the TASC set of five tests for New York State residents.

Can I take the TASC/GED exam online?

No, that's impossible. The New York State Education Department is the only organization that is allowed to issue HSE (High School Equivalency) diplomas in the state of New York, and though there are Internet sites that offer good online preparation programs, you cannot take the tests over the Internet. Beware of fraudulent "diploma/certificate" issuing websites that claim differently. These documents are not legitimate.

Before enrolling in online TASC prep courses, seek out NY State Education Department-approved courses at no cost. Again, bear in mind that TASC tests are not offered via the Internet and that you have to appear in person at an official state-approved TASC testing center.

Care Management primary function is to link clients to services and agencies that can improve their quality of life. A Care Manager assists clients with establishing goals and coordinating services. Each client is helped individually in accordance to their recovery goals and within their changing needs and circumstances.

Our Care Managers work closely with agencies involved with the client’s recovery. We assist clients in developing relationships with people who may be a support to them in the future. Our staff members work every day to provide persons recovering from mental illness the assistance they need to live independently in the community. MHADC’s Care Management Program annually serves over 3,000 people over the age of 18 who have a chronic illness.

As Care Managers, our primary goal is to decrease, if not help, avoid hospitalizations and to help individuals attain their personal goals, and to assure that the client keeps a focus on the necessary medical prevention measures that we all should align with. We do this by working with our clients in a true partnership. We assist in obtaining necessary medical treatment, vocational training or careers, residential opportunities, educational services and any other services needed for their recovery.

As part of MHADC’s Adult Mental Health Care Management or Health Home programs, we assist clients in maintaining their independence and self-sufficiency so they can live successfully in the community. We take a proactive and client-centered approach by treating each person on an individual basis.

MHADC has a supported housing program for not only adults but also young adults. We work with our clients and their landlords to ensure positive outcomes. To provide ongoing support, a one-hour visit is made to the client’s home each month. For more information, contact 845-473-2500 Option 1.

DUTCHESS COUNTY DEPARTMENT OF BEHAVIORAL AND COMMUNITY HEALTH

C-SPOA CHILDREN'S SINGLE POINT OF ACCESS identifies children/adolescents (5-21) with the highest risk of placement outside of the home as a result of serious behavioral health issues and provides timely access to an array of supports based on the identified need of the child/adolescent and the family. The goal of Children's SPOA is to strengthen and empower the children/adolescents and their families so they can lead safe and productive lives. By accessing these supports and services the goal is to reduce hospitalizations/residential placements (RTF) and partner with Dutchess County agencies that will provide services for the children and their families.

C-SPOA Services and Eligibility

Care Coordinator: The goal is to link the individual/family to community supports. To help build on the child's strengths and improve their coping skills. There are a limited number of slots for this service. It is available to families that hold private insurance.

Health Home Care Coordination: Medicaid Service Coordination for children from (5-21) that meet qualifying conditions. Acuity level is determined by care management agency that family is referred to.

Community Residence (CR): We make appropriate contacts to expedite a youth's application.

Residential Treatment Facility (RTF) applications are reviewed and forwarded to PACC committee for determination.

These are a few of the criteria that a child/adolescent needs to meet to be eligible:

- Diagnosis of designated emotional disturbance
- Extended impairment in functioning with severe symptoms

Part of the evaluation is using the Child & Adolescent Needs & Strengths (CANS) assessment tool. Every application is screened and reviewed. The committee will make individualized recommendations for other appropriate community supports and services. We utilized town recreation programs and libraries in the child's community.

How to Make a Referral?

You can contact the Children's SPOA Coordinator to discuss the needs of the child and/or family or go to the Dutchess County Website to download an application.

Go to Mental Health Services /Children's SPOA.

Enhanced Coordinated Children’s Services Initiative (ECCSI)

ECCSI is a Dutchess County funded process intended to facilitate collaboration between families and service providers in order to meet each family’s unique needs. The goal of the ECCSI is to prevent out of home placement of children between the ages 0-18.

ECCSI can assist families involved with multiple services and agencies (social services, medical, education, behavioral health, probation, etc.) by coordinating these services and linking to additional resources.

Until the family is connected to community services, the ECCSI team can temporarily provide families with support services, care coordination, advocacy, and parent infant education services.

Dutchess County service agencies work directly with ECCSI to assist in meeting the family's individual needs if barriers occur. Pregnant Women are also eligible. Families must reside in Dutchess County and ECCSI services are provided at no cost to the families. Family members can directly self-refer and must be involved with more than one community service.

Youth who have criminal charges pending and/or are already involved in DCFS Preventive Programming are ineligible.

ECCSI GOALS INCLUDE:

- Increasing each individual family's knowledge, access, and participation in community-based services
- Assisting families to navigate successfully multiple systems and providers.

WHAT IS A NETWORK?

A Network Meeting is when the family joins with ECCSI staff, their own service providers, and community agencies to create an individualized family plan. The family will be offered resources and support connecting to community linkages.

During the Network the team and family will:

- Recognize and appreciate the strengths of the family;
- Explore the current family concerns and barriers regarding the children's safety and;
- Collaborate to develop a Family Plan for connecting the family to resources.

salud del comportamiento, libertad condicional, etc.) mediante la coordinación de estos servicios y la vinculación a recursos adicionales. servicios de apoyo, coordinación de atención, defensa y servicios de educación para padres e hijos.

Las agencias de servicio del condado de Dutchess trabajan directamente con ECCSI para ayudar a satisfacer las necesidades individuales de la familia si se presentan barreras.

Las mujeres embarazadas también son elegibles. Las familias deben residir en el condado de Dutchess y los servicios de ECCSI se proporcionan sin costo para las familias. Los miembros de la familia pueden autorreferirse directamente y deben participar en más de un servicio comunitario.

METAS DE ECCSI:

- Aumentar el conocimiento de la familia individual, el acceso y la participación en servicios basados en la comunidad para satisfacer las necesidades únicas de la familia;
- Reducir las referencias al sistema de servicios sociales;
- Para disminuir las colocaciones en el hogar, cuando sea seguro hacerlo; y
- * Identificar brechas y barreras a los servicios en el actual sistema de atención.

Una reunión de red es cuando la familia se reúne para una sola vez en un ambiente relajado e informal para crear un plan individualizado de la familia con un equipo de apoyo formado con amigos, parientes, clero, terapeutas, maestros o consejeros y representantes de organismos varios de la comunidad.

Los objetivos de la reunión de red para la familia y el equipo de apoyo son los siguientes:

- identificar y apreciar los puntos fuertes de la familia
- identificar las preocupaciones actuales en relación con los niños en riesgo y tal vez otros miembros de la familia
- trabajar juntos para desarrollar un plan de acción para la conexión de la familia a los recursos que pueden ser de ayuda

Después de la reunión de la red:

El equipo ECCSI permanece en contacto con la familia y el equipo de apoyo para asegurarse que se realicen las tareas del plan de la familia.

There are a variety of programs, with different eligibility requirements. Financial assistance may also include work requirements, participation in a treatment program or the filing of a support petition.

SOCIAL SECURITY INCOME AND DISABILITY INSURANCE (SSI AND SSDI)

Supplemental Security Income (SSI)

877-405-6747 or 800-772-1213

SSI is a program that pays monthly benefits to eligible individuals with disabilities who have limited income and assets. Eligibility requirements must be met and the process is lengthy. Persons eligible for SSI are also eligible for Medicaid and Food Stamps. This program is available to children and adults. For a child, it is based on the parent's income until they are 18, then only the child's income and assets are considered.

Social Security Disability Insurance (SSDI)

877-405-6747 or 800-772-1213

SSDI is a program that pays monthly benefits to adults who become disabled and have worked long enough to meet the "work credits" requirement. It is also available to children who were disabled before the age of 22 and whose parents are retired, disabled or deceased.

DUTCHESS COUNTY OFFICE OF PROBATION AND COMMUNITY CORRECTIONS

PINS (Persons In Need of Supervision)

*50 Market Street
Poughkeepsie, NY 12601
845-486-2600*

What behavior indicates that a parent should consider filing a PINS petition?

It is important to seek help early, before your child nears the age of 18. If your child is engaging in any of the following behaviors, you may wish to consider filing a PINS complaint through the Dutchess County Office of Probation and Community Corrections:

- Running away
- Truancy
- Frequently breaking curfew
- Frequently defiant - not responding to parental authority
- Drug and alcohol use

Of course, many youth display some of these behaviors from time to time, especially during adolescence. However, if your child is frequently or habitually engaging in these behaviors and you believe that he or she is beyond your control, a PINS complaint is one course of action to consider.

Sometimes counseling and other family supports can help improve the situation. River Haven offers counseling and emergency housing for runaway teens or teens that can benefit from a “cooling off” period. Another option is to request an Enhanced Coordinated Children’s Services Initiative (ECCSI) Network meeting (see page 43).

How do I file a PINS complaint, if this is what I decide to do?

If you decide to file a PINS complaint, you may contact the Office of Probation and Community Corrections at 845-486-2600 for an appointment to discuss your concerns. If a PINS complaint is decided upon, a probation officer will gather information about your child.

As the parent/complainant, you have the right to withdraw the complaint at any time. However, if a school or other party files against your child, they may request court intervention if they believe the matter has not been successfully resolved.

Dutchess County Juvenile Fire setter (J-FIRE) Intervention Response and Education

845-486-3994

The Dutchess County J-FIRE Program provides a comprehensive, non-punitive, multidisciplinary approach to address the problem of juvenile fire setting by early identification, assessment, education, and intervention on the effort to protect lives and property. J-FIRE uses an evidence-based assessment process that helps determine the level of risk as well as educational strategies for children and families. In collaboration with firefighters, police and probation officers, and mental health clinicians, the J-FIRE program services are available to youth ages 3-17 to improve safety for the families in Dutchess County. To make a referral call or email jfire@dutchessny.gov and an Intervention Specialist will follow up for an appointment to meet.

Services for Teens & Young Adults: Our Teen & Young Adult Program uses an evidenced-based program called The Seven Challenges, which is designed for substance abusing or substance dependent youth to motivate a decision and commitment to change. It helps young people look at themselves, understand what it takes to give up a drug abusing lifestyle, and prepare for and attain success when they commit to making changes. All treatment begins with a comprehensive evaluation designed to identify problems and concerns for the youth and family. Following the evaluation, a therapist will work with the client and family to determine the goals of treatment. Services include individual, group and family counseling, psychiatric services, medication-assisted treatment, DBT groups, education groups, community involvement, case management, home visits and family/parent support. Ages 11-21

Teens & Young Adults with a family member dealing with drug or alcohol issues are also eligible for counseling services.

Services for Family Members: We offer counseling services to concerned significant others with a family member or loved one struggling with drugs or alcohol. Counselors use an evidence-based program called Community Reinforcement Approach & Family Training (CRAFT) that is proven to reduce anxiety, depression and anger and even help get family members into treatment using a positive, loving approach.

Hudson Valley LGBTQ Community Center

300 Wall Street Kingston, New York 12401
845-331-5300 <http://www.lgbtqcenter.org>

Assists Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, Transgender, Inter-sexed, Queer, and Questioning individuals and their families and friends through support, education and advocacy; please call for group information.

Basic Definitions: Sexual Orientation, Gender Identity and Expression (SOGIE)

SEXUAL ORIENTATION Describes to whom a person is sexually attracted. Some people are attracted to people of a particular gender; others are attracted to people of more than one gender. Some are not attracted to anyone.

Asexual - not sexually attracted to anyone and/or no desire to act on attraction to anyone. Does not necessarily mean sexless. Asexual people sometimes do experience affectional (romantic) attraction.

Bisexual - attracted to people of one's own gender and people of other gender(s). Two common misconceptions are that bisexual people are attracted to everyone and anyone, or that they just haven't "decided." Often referred to as "bi." See also Pansexual/Fluid and Queer.

Gay - generally refers to a man who is attracted to men. Sometimes refers to all people who are attracted to people of the same sex; sometimes "homosexual" is used for this also, although this term is seen by many today as a medicalized term that should be retired from common use.

Lesbian - a woman who is attracted to women. Sometimes also or alternately "same-gender-loving woman" or "woman loving woman." See also Gay. Pansexual/Fluid - attracted to people regardless of gender. Sometimes also or alternately "omnisexual" or "polysexual." See also Bisexual and Queer.

Questioning - one who may be unsure of, reconsidering, or chooses to hold off identifying their sexual identity or gender expression or identity.

Queer - traditionally a derogatory term, yet reclaimed and appropriated by some LGBTQ individuals as a term of self-identification. It is an umbrella term which embraces a matrix of sexual preferences, gender expressions, and habits that are not of the heterosexual, heteronormative, or gender-binary majority. It is not a universally accepted term by all members of the LGBT community, and it is often considered offensive when used by heterosexuals. Straight - attracted to people of the "opposite" sex (see below); also sometimes generally used to refer to people whose sexualities are societally normative. Alternately referred to as "heterosexual."

GENDER IDENTITY AND EXPRESSION The ways in which a person identifies and/or expresses their gender, including self-image, appearance, and embodiment of gender roles. One's sex (e.g. male, female, intersex, etc.) is usually assigned at birth based on one's physical biology. One's gender (e.g. male, female, genderqueer, etc.) is one's internal sense of self and identity. One's gender expression (e.g. masculine, feminine, androgynous, etc.) is how one embodies gender attributes, presentations, roles, and more.

Androgyny - The mixing of masculine and feminine gender expression or the lack of gender identification. The terms androgyne, agender, and neutrois are sometimes used by people who identify as genderless, non-gendered, beyond or between genders, or some combination thereof.

Cisgender - A gender identity that society considers to "match" the biological sex assigned at birth. The prefix cis- means "on this side of" or "not across from." A term used to call attention to the privilege of people who are not transgender.

Crossdresser - Cross-dressing refers to occasionally wearing clothing of the "opposite" gender, and someone who considers this an integral part of their identity may identify as a crossdresser (note: the term crossdresser is preferable to transvestite and neither may ever be used to describe a transsexual person). Cross-dressing is not necessarily tied to erotic activity or sexual orientation.

Genderqueer/Third Gender/Gender Fluid - These terms are used by people who identify as being between and/or other than male or female. They may feel they are neither, a little bit of both, or they may simply feel restricted by gender labels.

Intersex - A general term used for a variety of genetic, hormonal, or anatomical conditions in which a person is born with a reproductive or sexual anatomy that doesn't seem to fit the typical definitions of female or male. Some intersex individuals identify as transgender or gender variant; others do not. (Note: hermaphrodite is an obsolete term that is not currently considered appropriate.)

Transgender - First coined to distinguish gender benders with no desire for surgery or hormones from transsexuals, those who desired to legally and medically change their sex, more recently transgender and/or trans has become an umbrella term popularly used to refer to all people who transgress dominant conceptions of gender, or at least all who identify themselves as doing so. The definition continues to evolve.

Transsexual - The term transsexual has historically been used to refer to individuals who have medically and legally changed their sex, or who wish to do so. Most transsexual people feel a conflict between their gender identity and the sex they were assigned at birth. Other labels used within this group are MtF (male-to-female) or trans woman, and FtM (female-to-male) or trans man.

Two-Spirit – A person who identified with the Native American tradition of characterizing certain members of the community as having the spirit of both the male and female genders.

OTHER COMMONLY USED TERMS

Biphobia - Aversion of and/or prejudice toward the idea that people can be attracted to more than one gender, and/or bisexuals as a group or as individuals, often based on negative stereotypes of bisexuality and the invisibility of bisexual people.

Coming Out – The process of acknowledging one's sexual orientation and/or gender identity or expression to oneself or other people.

Gender Binary - A system of classifying sex and gender into two distinct and disconnected forms of masculine and feminine. It can be referred to as a social construct or a social boundary that discourages people from crossing or mixing gender roles, or from creating other third (or more) forms of gender expression. It can also represent some of the prejudices which stigmatize people who identify as intersex and transgender.

Heterosexism - The presumption that everyone is straight and/or the belief that heterosexuality is a superior expression of sexuality. Often includes the use of power of the majority (heterosexuals) to reinforce this belief and forgetting the privileges of being straight in our society.

Homophobia - Negative attitudes and feelings toward people with non-heterosexual sexualities; dislike of, or discomfort with, expressions of sexuality that do not conform to heterosexual norms.

Internalized Oppression - In reference to LGBTQ people, internalized oppression is the belief that straight and non-transgender people are “normal” or better than LGBTQ people, as well as the often-unconscious belief that negative stereotypes about LGBTQ people are true.

LGBTQ - An acronym for lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender, and queer. This is currently one of the most popular ways in U.S. society to refer to all people who are marginalized due to sexual orientation and/or gender identity, although other letters are often included as well to represent identities described above.

Transphobia - Negative attitudes and feelings toward transgender individuals or discomfort with people whose gender identity and/or gender expression do not conform to traditional or stereotypic gender roles.

USEFUL TERMS AND DEFINITIONS

ELIGIBILITY – Most services have eligibility requirements. Eligibility may depend on factors such as insurance, diagnosis and/or IQ.

DIFFERENT DEFINITIONS OF “CHILD” – Differing State regulations lead to different definitions for what constitutes a minor child and for how long parents are responsible. At age 16, a youth may legally drop out of school. However, parents are financially responsible for their children until they reach age 21, meaning that a youth cannot receive public assistance to live independently unless parents contribute child support. In criminal justice, a child becomes an adult at age 17.

HIPAA – stands for the Healthy Insurance Portability and Accountability Act of 1996. It protects your confidentiality as applied to PHI (private health information), means the information is not made available or disclosed to unauthorized persons or processes.

MANDATED REPORTER – New York State and the New York State Child Protective System recognize certain professionals as holding the important role of mandated reporter of child abuse or maltreatment. These professionals can be held liable by both the civil and criminal legal systems for intentionally failing to make a report. Mandated reporters are required to report instances of suspected child abuse or maltreatment only when they are presented with reasonable cause to suspect child abuse or maltreatment in their professional roles.

PARENTAL PERMISSION – Many services require parental permission up to age 18. Some services may be provided in the absence of parental permission (e.g. runaway, homeless, and drug and alcohol services).

PARENTAL RESPONSIBILITY – Parents are often held responsible for the behavior of their children.

PSYCHOTHERAPY - general term for treating mental health problems by talking with a psychiatrist, psychologist or other mental health provider. During psychotherapy, you learn about your condition and your moods, feelings, thoughts and behaviors. Psychotherapy helps you learn how to take control of your life and respond to challenging situations with healthy coping skills. Things to remember when you seeking services:

- Insurance coverage. Check with your insurance company beforehand to find out what kind of mental health coverage you have. Obtain a list of eligible providers or find out the process for qualifying for mental health services with your plan. If there is a co-pay find out if it increases over time, or if there are limits to your coverage (e.g. a limit of 10 sessions). You may need to see your primary care physician for a referral.
- Be specific when discussing your concerns about your child's behavior. Ask when scheduling the appointment or at the first (intake) session if there is a staff member who has expertise in that area.
- Gain knowledge and maintain active participation in your child's treatment. All parents/caregivers have feelings and emotions that are overwhelming when assisting their child in treatment. Seeking treatment is not a failure in parenting. It is like seeking medical attention like you would for any other illness. Parents/caregivers of a child born with a disability often go through grief, shock, and denial. They may minimize the situation and then experience an overwhelming sense of guilt and failure. These are stresses in their lives that they hope and expect that the mental health professional, as the expert, will be able to “fix” their child. Even if your child receives excellent counseling services, he or she is with the family or in school much more of the time. Families themselves often need to change their rules and learn new ways of working together, in order to help the child. Be sure to ask your child's counselor for advice with any behavior management issues you have at home.

- Medication. There are many effective medications for a variety of mental health and behavioral problems from depression to hyperactivity. Every child responds differently. The prescribing physician will explain the benefits and risks of medication and any side effects. Medication often takes time to reach a therapeutic level.

Take steps to get the most out of your therapy and help make it a success.

- Make sure you feel comfortable with your therapist. If you don't, look for another therapist with whom you feel more at ease.
- Approach therapy as a partnership. Therapy is most effective when you're an active participant and share in decision-making. Make sure you and your therapist agree about the major issues and how to tackle them. Together, you can set goals and measure progress over time.
- Be open and honest. Success depends on willingness to share your thoughts, feelings and experiences, and to consider new insights, ideas and ways of doing things. If you're reluctant to talk about certain issues because of painful emotions, embarrassment or fears about your therapist's reaction, let your therapist know.
- Stick to your treatment plan. If you feel down or lack motivation, it may be tempting to skip psychotherapy sessions. Doing so can disrupt your progress. Try to attend all sessions and to give some thought to what you want to discuss.
- Don't expect instant results. Working on emotional issues can be painful and may require hard work. You may need several sessions before you begin to see improvement.
- Do your homework between sessions. If your therapist asks you to document your thoughts in a journal or do other activities outside of your therapy sessions, follow through. These homework assignments can help you apply what you've learned in the therapy sessions to your life.
- If psychotherapy isn't helping, talk to your therapist. If you don't feel that you're benefiting from therapy after several sessions, talk to your therapist about it. You and your therapist may decide to make some changes or try a different approach that may be more effective.

SURRENDER OF CUSTODY – If your child must be placed in a residential treatment setting and DCFS is the placing agency, you may be asked to surrender custody as a condition of placement. It is possible that parents are financially responsible for some of the payment for out of home placement.

CHILD DEVELOPMENT INFORMATION

Behavioral Health in Early Childhood

Behaviors in early childhood which create concerns for parents may still be age-appropriate (e.g. temper tantrums for ages 2-3, sexual curiosity, and occasional bed-wetting after toilet training is completed, etc.). Children who have been exposed to violence, family disruption or other trauma are more likely to display problematic behaviors.

Bed wetting - If your child is wetting the bed twice per week for at least 3 consecutive months and this causes significant stress in other areas of functioning (social, at school, e.g.) then it should be flagged as a time to take action. Check with your pediatrician to rule out a medical condition. If this is ruled out, it is likely that some psychological factors are involved.

School Avoidance - School avoidance is a young child's irrational fear of going to school. It is to be distinguished from a child who does not want to go to school or who is skipping school to hang out with friends. In some cases, the child may have specific fears of something (e.g. bullies, academic demands). Sometimes the child is not so much afraid to go to school as afraid to leave home due to worry about what may happen to a parent when the child is gone (e.g. fear of parental illness (physical or mental); fear of parental incapacity due to substance abuse; fear of domestic violence). It is important to talk to your child to better understand the fear, as well as to the teacher who may have a different view of the problem. The teacher may be extremely helpful in working out a plan to help your child feel more comfortable and less anxious about being in school. The school may ask you to talk to the school psychologist or social worker about your concerns.

Sexual behaviors - in children can range from normative behaviors to sexually harmful behaviors. Some behaviors may include: masturbation, interest in seeing or touching other children's body parts, "flashing" one's genitals, watching pornography, or more serious sexually harmful behaviors.

Sexually harmful behaviors - may result from curiosity, a child having been exposed to the sexual behavior of adults or the Internet, or from having been a victim of sexual abuse. There are many possibly reasons why a youth may engage in these behaviors and it is necessary to have an evaluation determine the best course of action.

- There is specialized treatment for youth who cause sexual harm. The specialized treatment includes safety planning, individual treatment, family treatment, sexual health curriculum, and skill building.

Cruelty to animals - If your child exhibits cruel or excessively punitive behavior towards animals, it is important not to dismiss or ignore it. This behavior may be coupled with other behaviors, such as anger, threatening behavior toward others, physical fights, stealing, destructiveness and lying. This behavior may be a one-time event for your child or could be part of a more persistent pattern.

Aggressive behavior - Aggressive behavior can be observed in physical or verbal attacks on others. Younger children may display aggression by hitting or yelling at playmates and being destructive with toys or school supplies. Youth may engage in physical fighting, bullying, and defiance of authority or delinquent acts.

Steps you can take to assist your child(ren):

- See your pediatrician. Your child's doctor knows your child and is the first person to consult with your concerns.
- Seek help from a children's mental health professional.

Behavioral Health in Middle Childhood

Anxiety and Stress Disorders - Emotional disorders characterized by unrealistic and/or excessive fear and worry, decreased concentration and memory, indecisiveness, irritability, impatience, anger and sleep disturbances. The list includes: Generalized Anxiety disorder, Panic Disorder, Phobic Disorder, Acute Stress Disorder, PTSD and Adjustment Disorder. Post-traumatic Stress Disorder is the development of behaviors or symptoms following an extreme traumatic stressor. Events experienced by others that may be traumatic for a child include: personal assault, serious accident or injury to a close family member or friend; sudden death of a family member or close friend. Children who have been exposed to domestic violence are also vulnerable to becoming traumatized. Autism spectrum disorder (ASD) is a developmental disability that can cause significant social, communication and behavioral challenges. There is often nothing about how people with ASD look that sets them apart from other people, but people with ASD may communicate, interact, behave, and learn in ways that are different from most other people. The learning, thinking, and problem-solving abilities of people with ASD can range from gifted to severely challenged. Some people with ASD need a lot of help in their daily lives; others need less.

A diagnosis of ASD now includes several conditions that used to be diagnosed separately: autistic disorder, pervasive developmental disorder not otherwise specified (PDD-NOS), and Asperger syndrome. These conditions are now all called autism spectrum disorder.

Chemical Dependency (Drug/Alcohol Abuse) - Children may use drugs or alcohol in an attempt to diminish the stress of family or school concerns. Underage drinking and drug use are both against the law; however, many families and peer cultures permit or encourage substance use as acceptable teen behavior. We know that the younger a child is when they begin to use alcohol or drugs; the more likely they are to be impaired by substance use. If a child's behavior or school performance is declining and a parent is suspect of substance abuse, there are counselors professionally trained in diagnosing and treating substance abuse and dependence.

Conduct Disorder - The child may demonstrate aggression toward people and animals, repeated physical fighting, initiate fighting, use of weapons, stealing, destruction of property, deceit and repeated lying to obtain something. The child frequently breaks rules at home and in school.

Depression - Depression refers to a group of emotional disorders characterized by, sadness, discouragement, despair, pessimism about the future, reduced activity and productivity, sleep disturbance or excessive fatigue and feelings of hopelessness. In childhood, depression can look different from the way it manifests in adults. Instead of appearing sad, a child may be irritable, agitated or cranky. There may be a loss of interest in friends, games or sports, which previously were a source of pleasure. School performance may suffer. Again, there are many effective treatments for depression, all of which start with an evaluation by a mental health professional.

Non-Suicidal Self-Injury - Cutting, scratching, or pinching skin enough to cause damage. Banging or punching, burning skin or pulling out large amounts of hair. Self-harm can be completed so that the person escapes unbearable emotional pain and to relieve the tension.

Suicidal Thoughts and Gestures - Threats of suicide should always be taken seriously. If your child is making statements like “life stinks” or “I hate life,” it may not be intent to commit suicide, but it deserves further discussion. Substance abuse is often a factor that increases feelings of hopelessness, or removes the barriers to acting on suicidal thoughts.

Suicidal Ideation – Suicidal ideation refers to the serious contemplation of suicide or thought patterns that lead to killing yourself. If a child expresses a desire to die, they need an evaluation by a mental health professional. If your child has a plan to kill themselves or has attempted suicide in the past; it is important that the child not be left alone, and regardless of the child’s intentions, emergency help must be sought.

- 911 if an injury is life-threatening
- Dutchess County’s 24 hour Helpline (845-485-9700) can provide assistance and/or Mobile Crisis services.
- Mid-Hudson Regional Hospital Emergency Department for mental health assessment.

Oppositional Defiant Disorder - The child is often spiteful, refuses to follow rules, and blames others rather than taking responsibility for their own behavior. A key to addressing these concerns is helping parents to find effective methods for addressing the behaviors with consistent rules and consequences. Another key element in addressing oppositional or anti-social behavior is ensuring that all adults who interact with your child are consistent in setting limits and imposing consequences for behavior that is unacceptable.

Eating Disorders - If you have noticed distinct differences in your child’s eating patterns, it is important to talk to your child about what is going on.

Anorexia Nervosa - Anorexia is diagnosed when an individual is underweight and using extreme weight-loss strategies. A key element is that the teen exhibits a significant disturbance in the perception of the shape or size of their body. Signs of anorexia may be: very restricted diet of low calorie foods, excessive exercise, frequent weighing, obsessive measuring of body parts, skipped menstrual cycles, medical problems such as anemia or dehydration, fatigue or even excess energy.

Bulimia - Bulimia is a disorder defined as consumption of an abnormally large amount of food in a very short period of time. Often the food is very high in calories. In an attempt to compensate for the weight gain, the individual attempts to rid themselves of the food through purging or through the use of laxatives and diuretics.

Binge Eating – Is a disorder when a person has recurrent episodes of eating an unusually large amount of food in a short period of time. These binges occur at least twice per week over 6 months. They feel disgusted, distressed, and ashamed over their actions.

Attachment Disorder - Children with attachment disorders or other attachment problems have difficulty connecting to others and managing their own emotions. This results in a lack of trust and self-worth, a fear of getting close to anyone, anger, and a need to be in control. A child with an attachment disorder feels unsafe and alone. Attachment disorders are the result of negative experiences in this early relationship. If young children feel repeatedly abandoned, isolated, powerless, or uncared for—for whatever reason—they will learn that they can't depend on others and the world is a dangerous and frightening place.

Reactive Attachment Disorder (RAD) - Children with reactive attachment disorder have been so disrupted in early life that their future relationships are also impaired. They have difficulty relating to others and are often developmentally delayed. Reactive attachment disorder is common in children who have been abused, bounced around in foster care, lived in orphanages, or taken away from their primary caregiver after establishing a bond.

Transitioning to Adulthood

Family Focus vs. Individual Focus - Youth moving into later adolescence experience a push for greater independence, even when the skills to be independent are lacking. One fact is worth remembering: parents remain legally and financially responsible for their children up to age 21. Youth generally do not become eligible for public assistance as individuals until age 21.

Despite this, in some service systems youth are considered “adult” at an earlier point. For example, in the criminal justice system, a youth at age 17 is charged as an adult and youth as young as 13 charged with a serious crime may be treated as an adult.

In the mental health system, a youth is served in the adult system at age 18, however in the Astor Clinics a child can be served up to the age of 21.

In the education system, a youth must attend school up until at least the age of 16, and in some school districts up to age 18. In NYS, all youth are entitled to a free public education until they obtain a high school diploma or reach the age of 21. A youth with a Developmental Disability can remain in school until age 21.

Once a youth is considered an adult in various service systems, the wishes and input of family members do not have to be considered unless the youth gives written consent. Most adult services assume an individual rather than family focus and many service providers recognize the importance of including family members.

Mental Health Planning - Youth age 18 and over entering the mental health system will enter the adult service system. If the youth is already receiving mental health services through the Astor Counseling Centers, they may be continued up to age 21, or until such time as treatment can be concluded or a transition to the adult system has been arranged.

Educational and Vocational Planning - Transition planning, identifying and preparing the path a youth will follow upon leaving school, should begin at age 15. Schools have guidance staff; however with large student caseloads, a parent must be very persistent in finding out what educational and vocational options are best suited for their child. Although all students are now expected to pass Regents exams to receive a High School diploma, the TASC and other vocational options can provide the youth with basic requirements to enter the job market. School guidance offices, one-stop employment centers and ACCES-VR (Adult Career and Continuing Education Services-Vocational Rehabilitation), all can provide information about eligibility and career planning. For young adults with Developmental Disabilities, gaining eligibility with Taconic DDRO will open the door for many more services.

Independent living- Many youth visualize living in an apartment and being able to support themselves. Many of these youth do not earn enough to accomplish this, or else would benefit from basic budgeting, banking and housekeeping skills to make this happen. There are several supported housing programs available through Hudson River Housing (HRH) that provide young adults safe housing as they build the skills and income needed to live more independently (See Older Youth/Young Adult section) or call (845) 452-0019 for further information about housing options. HRH also provides individual financial counseling and classes that can help older youth develop budgeting and money management skills. Paid employment training is also available for youth/young adults through HRH. (Contact 454-5176 for further information).
