COMMUNITY-BASED

Bronx Programs

Astor's Community-Based Behavioral Health & Prevention Services support children, adults and families who are experiencing behavioral challenges whether at home, school, or in the community.

Behavioral difficulties can create distress for all family members. Through a variety of specialty programs, our caring staff help children, parents, siblings and beyond cope with the strain; and when necessary, help to address serious issues of sexual and physical abuse, neglect, domestic violence and substance abuse.

Many of the children we assist in this program are at risk of being removed from their homes. Astor developed individualized prevention, education and support to families through our clinics, in their homes, and in school settings.

Our Programs & Services

Early Childhood Programs

Astor provides Early Childhood Programs at the Lawrence F. Hickey Center For Child Development, a therapeutic preschool in the Bronx.

Mental Health Outpatient Treatment & Rehabilitation Services

Astor's outpatient clinics provide counseling, psychiatric services, and family advocacy to youth up to age 26 and their families. Astor's school-based clinics offer the same range of therapeutic interventions as the free-standing clinics but with the convenience of being located within community schools.

Home and Community-Based Programs

Astor offers an array of individualized prevention, education, and support programs and services for families through our clinics, in their homes, and in school settings.

School-Based Programs

Astor provides embedded clinical interventions and care management supports in both community schools and special needs settings.
